The Pastor Speaks

A Know-So Salvation

Luke 18:9-14

Through the years those that can't remember ever presonally receiving Christ as Saviour either go through life doubting their Salvation or being deceived and going to a Christless grave. On the other hand, others do make a profession yet never show any evidence of the new Birth. I trust that it will please God to use this message to remove all doubt or to open your eyes that you may see the reality of your lost condition.

First of all we see the Place of Salvation, here in verse 10. They were in the temple. This is symbolic of the church. The Pharisee was a member and in good standing, but lost. The Publican was a visitor and despised, degraded but concerned.

Secondly I see their Prayers in verse 11. One was praying and the other one was pleading. The Pharisee talked and bragged to God. He used the word (I) five times. He prayed thus and so with himself. He said he fasted twice a week and the law only required once a year, (Lev. 16:29). He said he gave a tithe of (all) instead of the simple tithe of the field and of the stall. Mr. Spurgeon said of a man he once knew, "I always thought he was perfect until he told me so." Now we see the publican in verse 13. He feared the Lord the Bible says, "standing afar off." Then we notice his humility. He refused to even so much as lift his head toward Heaven. Then we see his self abasement. He smote upon his breast which was a act of self-degradation, he degraded himself, we see that he also pleaded instead of praying. He said, "God be merciful to me a sinner". He confessed his condition, he said, "to me a sinner". Then we notice thirdly about this message the Pardon received, verse 14. He could pinpoint the place and the time. Jesus said "I say to you, this man went down to his house" justified "or Saved and forgiven."

We notice that Salvation in the scriptures is always instantaneous. To the manic of Gadara (Mark 5:15), "He was clothed and in his right mind". To Jairus's daughter (Mark 5: 29) "And straightway (immediately) the fountain of her blood was dried up". To the ruler of the synagogue's daughter, (Mark 5:42) "And straightway (immediately) his ears were open, and the strng of his tongue was loose and he spake plain." To Lazarus in the tomb, (John 11:14), "And he that was dead came forth." The Syrophenician's daughter (Matthew 15:28), "And her daughter was made whole from that very hour."

If you can have Salvation and not know it, you can lose it and not miss it. It is as real as walking out of a photographer's dark room into a studio full of flood lights.

Do you know the Lord Jesus today? Then trust Him as the manic of Degada, Jairus's daughter, the ruler of the synagogue's daughter, the deaf and dumb man, or the Syrophenician's daughter. Trust the Saviour and be Saved today.

PROPHECY 1969

Lesson for October 19, 1969

Background Scripture: Hosea 4: 1 through 5:14; Amos 7 through 8; 2 Kings 17.
Devotional Reading: Psalms 89: 5-8, 14-16.

A man was standing in the city's public square. He said nothing, but wore a large poster-board sign that read: "REPENT AMERICA! GOD'S JUDGMENT IS COMING!"

A group of people waiting at a nearby bus stop watched him with curiosity. Pedestrians slowed down to look him over as they passed by. Some children mimicked him. Many people smiled or smirked as they read the sign; a few laughed openly and loudly. People are not in a mood to repent and the thought of God's judgment coming upon us today seems an amusingly ridiculous idea.

Outdated?

No one, it seems, ever takes too seriously prophetic warnings. God's judgment, we reason, is something for some other person to worry about. Many have resigned the Biblical Day of Judgment to the realm of mythology, and as well as sin itself, it seems an outdated way of thinking. Often, only when we have suffered or known difficulty do we take God's judgment seriously.

It had been that way with Israel. In 722 B.C., approximately two hundred years after the division of the United Monarchy, after many unheeded warnings, that which had been well prophecied came to pass: Assyria defeated the forces of Israel and carried her people into captivity. The Ten Tribes of Israel never to be seen or heard of again.

What were the reasons for this tragedy? This historian might offer the following: (1) She had been for long years politically incompetent and evil kings; (2) She had placed her dependence upon military alliances with other nations, all of which proved, in one way or another, to have been the wrong ones; (3) Although Israel had been relatively weak in military forces, the nation had often assumed pretensions of great military power and become involved in disputes too big for her to win.

The Decay Within

All of these are quite accurate enough, Yet, when we read the Old Testament, we find that the writers look upon the cause of the tragedy, not as military or political weakness, but as spiritual and moral decay. This the weakness within, was the real cause of Israel's tragic ending: "And they did wicked things, provoking the Lord to anger . . ." (17:11).

What was it that provoked that anger? For one thing, they worshipped pagan gods and idols: "They set up for themselves pillars and Asherim on every high hill and under every green tree . . . . And they served idols . . ." (17:10, 12).

Secondly, they followed the ways of their neighbor nations, even though these practices conflicted with their Hebrew heritage. For example: "And they burned their sons and daughters as offerings" (17:17), God had never taught them that.

Third, they were infected with materialism. For the sake of material gain, they "sold themselves to do evil in the sight of the Lord."

Could it Happen Here?

Worst of all, they rejected the warnings of the prophets who came to them. Prophets had the responsibility to repentance, and they would not listen."

Is there any reason why what happened to Israel could not happen to our own nation? It would be difficult for us to say that we have no more sin than Israel's. And, in the light of God's judgment of Israel's unfaithfulness, we are compelled by Him to heed the prophets of our own day. God's judgment is coming in 1969.

"Therefore be not angry with Israel, but let them out of his sight. It happen here"
